

You're Invited!

The student's of Spirit Lake's health class are finishing up a unique Project Based Learning experience.

Student(s) (individually or in pairs) are given a medical folder of a fictitious client with some not so fictitious symptoms.

They are part doctor, part detective as they investigate the objective and subjective information, confirm a diagnosis and then prescribe a treatment for their client.

They are ready to present this information to an audience.....YOU.

Who: You the parents/guardians (no matter what your child says we need an audience to present to!).

What: A multi-media presentation on the findings of a medical case.

When: Tuesday, April 28th.

Seventh hour students: 2:10 - 2:40 pm

Eighth hour students: 2:55 - 3:25 pm

Where: SAMI Performing Arts Center (Lobby)

Why: Because we're proud of our findings and would like to share it with YOU!

I know having events planned during the the school day isn't ideal for people's work schedules. Please consider playing with your schedule and attending this event.

Thank You,

Health Class Students and Tim O'Hagan

PS - This evening check with your child and have them show you their site to see if they are prepared for this large project.
